Dear ,

Have you seen our latest YouTube video?

No? Then take a look right now.

In this video we explain the functions of the TÜV certified SMU for functional safety.

We regularly publish videos about our linear motors and servo controllers from Jenny Science. There are tutorials on various functions and setup of our linear motors.

In the category Unique, unique features of Jenny Science products are shown. For example, the force-controlled operation from a smartphone. Have a look here.

We hope to give you useful informations and that you can benefit from our videos!
